The Eastern teams began their last Western trip yesterday. The Brooklyns opened at Chicago with a clean-cut victory which increased their lead to 08 points, as the Philadelphias lost an eleven-inning game at Pitta-burg. The Bostons whitewashed the Cincinnati Reds, who are in danger now of being passed by St. Louis. Tebeau's men got away with the New York tall-enders. The results:

EAST MORICHES. Aug. 4.—The Moriches Yacht Club held a handicap regatta here this after-noon. Each boat received a time allowance based on the records of preceding races. Club members handled their own boats, which are of the 21-foot cat class. The entries were: Dr. Carr's Harmony, Harry and Will Growtage's Melody, John McAleenan's Dodo, D. J. Singer's Sappho, Niel Keyle's Hester, George T. Moon, Jr. s. Seasea. The course was a triangular ten miles. There was a fifful northerly wind, which kept the amateur sailors busy, but all completed the race. Dodo finished first in 2 hours 3 minutes 14 seconds, corrected time, beating Sappho by 45 seconds. Melody finished third.

Those that did start, however, were matched and the races were interesting especially in the 80-foot and raceabout classes.

The preparatory signal was at 12:30 o'clock northeast. The starting line was half a mile south of the gas buoy off the eastern end of Little Captain's Island. The 50-footers were to sail twice around a triangle as follows: 4% miles southeast by south, 4% miles north by east and 8% miles west by south, making 24 miles. a smaller triangle, the compass course being 2% miles southeast by south, 3% miles northeast half altogether. The raceabouts and smaller classes sailed twice around a small triangle, 2½ miles southeast by south, 2% miles north % east, % miles west by south, or 12 miles altogether. When the yachts came down to the line not one carried topsails. It was almost a run to the

The Jessica was the first to cross. Then came the Narcissus, Altair and Sistee. In the next the Naroissus, Altair and Sistes. In the next division the O'Shima San led. Cymbra was next, followed by the Titania. The O'Shima San and Cymbra had a short luffing match, but seeing the Titania getting away from them soon squared away on their course. Harry Maxwell led in the next division with the Oiseau, Enpronzi came next and then the Alerion, Marguerite, Kit, Dot and Windora. Scamp led the raceabouts, followed in order by the Sis, Raider, Colleen and Marjosa. The others crossed in this order at their respective signals: Uarda, Vagabond, Rochelle, Murmur, Vera, Mongoose, Spunk, Psyche, Nora, Vivette and Nike.

The wind got around to the east-southeast and made some of the yachts beat to the first mark. Then they had a reach to the second mark and a broad reach home. The most important changes on this round were in the 30-foot classes. REGATTA OF INDIAN HARBOR Y. C. NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN. "FROST" VISITS THE RACES AT MANHATTAN BEACH.

> Who Was Substituted for Michael—Freeman Wins the Mile Championship—Mrs. Bayne Passes Her Fortleth Century and Continues. There was a very frosty race meet at Manhattan Beach yesterday, owing probably to the suspension of Jimmy Michael, who was booked for a duel with Charley Miller. It was the first National Circuit meet of the season in New York and there was a one-mile professional championship on the card, besides some other races that had filled exceedingly well, but the crowd stayed away. There were a few hundred regulars on the bleacher stand and two or three hundred more sat in the grand stand, but there was no enthusiasm. The meet was under the auspices of the American Cycle Racing Association. In place of the Miller-Michael event there was substituted a race between Miller and Burns Pierce. They rode twenty-five miles. Six times during the race one of the men passed the other and some of their friends cheered. Pierce did not seem miles he was plainly in distress and scarcely able to hold his pace. Miller won by about miles he was plainly in distress and scarcely able to hold his pace. Miller won by about 100 yards.

The new rule of having only three men in the final of a championship necessitated a semifinal heat between Kramer, Kiser, Freeman, Walthour and Downing, in which Walthour and Downing were shut out. The final was a loaf until the turn for home was reached, and in the struggle up the stretch Freemen cut through in the centre and won by a foot from Kiser, with Kramer a length behind. Both the amateur events furnished good sport, and were closely contested, the handleap affording a blanket finish. In the final of this considerable amusement was created by some one calling attention to the fact that four colored men in the race wore respectively the numbers 4. 7. 11 and 44. Kiser made a fine finish in the fivernile and won from Walthour by a length, Fred Titus getting fourth after being "sleigh-rided" by Lefferson. The greatest applause of the afternoon was heard when the victory of Ethelbert in the Brighton Cup race was announced. Summaries follow:

Mrs. Emma Bayne continued her century riding on the triangular course at Valley Stream yesterday and seemed as strong as ever. After finishing her thirty-ninth century at 11 o'clock on Friday night, and becoming thereby a breaker of men's records, she went to bed and slept, not starting out again until 6 o'clock vesterday morning. At 5:15 o'clock last evening she completed her fortieth century and went right on for the forty-first. During the afternoon she had her first accident. She collided with one of her pacemakers and the front wheel of her bicycle was broken. Mrs. Bayne was not hurt, and an extra wheel of her own was quickly brought to the place of the accident, so that she could continue with but little delay.

A large and enthusiastic crowd attended the annual race meet of the Olympic Wheelmen held on the half-mile track at Maspeth yesterday. There were several bad spills, notably in the one-mile handicap and five-mile events in which several riders went down in a heap, but fortunately no one was badly injured. The summaries; cycling tourists form parties. The English member of the League was entitled by his membership in the C. T. C., independent of any L. A. W. card, to the best that could be afforded, but all he could get was the residence address of a man who probably could aid him. A week before this two young women from Ohio were in the League offices asking advice in the matter of riding their wheels over Long Island and then through Connecticut, Rhode Island and Massachusetts. They wanted to visit Newport, Providence and Boston and take the Fitchburg road to Albany. Almost any New York drummer could have helped them out in road information but at the League offices they were at a standstill. The cierk there told them that they never had been along that way and "really couldn't say." The cierk could not tell the name of a consul in New London where the touring couple would land from the Sag Harbor or Greenport boat. These two incidents are pertinent and apt illustrations of the present deficiency of service of the L. A. W. It would cost only ideas and energy and a few hundred postage stamps on the part of the President and all the chief consuls for them to exchange complete information so that any one in any State could learn all about all the consuls and all the roads in other States. A Small Crowd Watches Miller Defeat Pierce.

onsuls for them to exchange complete in formation so that any one in any State could learn all about all the consuls and all the roads in other States.

The replenishment of the amateur bicycle racing field seems to be without limit. The season has not half passed and several new stars have appeared who later may pass into the professional ranks. Among these are W. S. Fenn of Waterbury, Conn. Lester Wilson of Philadelphia, J. H. Hunter of Newark and John Bedell of Lynbrook, L. I. The career of Bedell is peculiarly interesting because starting from the handicap regularly given to novices he has become a scratch man in shorner time that ever before happened in the case of an amateur. Part of the reason for this is that Bedell was a novice to the N. C. A. handicapper because last year he rode as an L. A. W. man and the haughty and confident N. C. A. did not know of him. Bedell was foxy as well as swift and lucky. He started on June 3 from the "novice mark" of 50 yards in a half-mile race at Valiburg. He won his heat in 1 minute and 2-5 of a second, but was not heard from in the final. Later he qualified for the final of a five-mile handicap by being sixth in his heat, riding from the 150 yard mark, but again he failed to show in the final. As late as June 23, he started in a half-mile handicapper in his belief that he had the man classed. At New Brunswick, July 4, Bedell cut loose and made what the racing men call "a hos-killing." With his brother. Nemus, he won the one-mile tandem in 1 minute and 59 seconds from the 150-yard mark. He won the five-mile handicapper in his belief that he had the man classed. Arrangements for International Tennis

Boston, Aug 4.—The International Lawn Tennis tournament between English and American players will take place at Longwood on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, Aug 7, 8 and 9, as was first announced.
Word has been received from Secretary Mewburn of the English Lawn Tennis Association that the grounds at Longwood are acceptable to the English players as the place for the international matches. Of the two matches to be played on Tuesday and Thursday, the first will begin at 2:30 and the second about 8:30. The doubles match, which will be played Wednesday afternoon, promises to be the most interesting of the series, as the American champions, day afternoon, promises to be the most interesting of the series, as the American champions,

AMONG ATHLETIC CHRISTIANS.

The Branches of Greater New York Propar

More than usual interest is being manifested among the Y. M. C. A. athletes regarding the outcome of the National Athletic meeting scheduled for next month. Athletes of this city have trained hard in their gymnasiums and also at the grounds of the new West Side branch since the latter have been lighted with electricity. All are in the pink of condition and ready to made a good bid for victory. In Brooklyn there is just as much confidence, and the battle between these two branches of Greater New York is expected to be a royal programme for the near future is the annual Y. M. C. A. regatta to be held at Oak Point on a date yet to be decided. A close struggle in looked for, as the young Christians have taken a deep interest in boating this summer and quite a number of new oarsmen have been noticed at the boathouse.

Dr. Poole, who has charge of the Twenty-third Street branch, is rapidly getting the athletes in trim for the national games. The crew to represent the branch in the regatta has been in training for some time and is now in good condition. A rambling club has been organized at the branch. It is in a flourpeen organized at the branch. It is in a nour-ishing condition, and for the next three Satur-days the ramblers will travel to Rockland Lake, Bronx Park and other places. On Labor Day the entire membership of the Twenty-third Street branch will go on a coaching trip to some the entire membership of the Twenty-third Street branch will go on a coaching trip to some suburban place.

At the German branch the regular symnastic classes have been discontinued and the symnasium will be closed until September. Arrangements are already being made for the opening night, when the programme will include athletic games, symnastics and basketball. In the latter sport the branch will be strongly represented this fall. Most of the old players have retained their membership and will be on the team again.

The Mount Vernon Y. M. C. A. members are still interested in baseball, and the enthusiasts are preparing for a busy season. With the raw material the association had last year it made a brilliant showing, playing games with nearly every association in this vicinity and winning a majority of the contests. The same team will be in the field this year. Among the baseball contingent there are some football players, and as soon as the season on the diamond closes steps will be taken to form a team of pigskin chasers.

The symnasium and athletio work at the Central branch of the Y. M. C. A. of Brooklyn bids fair to be unusually successful this fall. One of the new ventures is the organization of a football team, which will be coached by a first-class man. Although it was at first thought there would be no basketball team this season, several of the old men have returned and some light practice has already been done. Games have been scheduled with some of the strongest out-of-town teams.

Big Scoring at the Wickets in England.

A keen struggle is in progress this year in England for the coveted honor of the County shire and Lancashire were tied for the lead, each having a record of nineteen games played. eleven won and eight drawn. There is no doubt that the championship will rest with one of the counties of the Roses, but whether it be with Yorkshire, of the White, or Lancashire, of the Red, is an open question. Sussex, Notts and Surrey will fight for third place.

The prominent position of Sussex has been gained by the splendid batting of those two noted amateurs, K. S. Ranjitsinhji and C. B., Fry, and it is a remarkable fact that the men come first and third in the first-class batting averages. The Prince has amassed the tremendous aggregate of 2,054 runs, which for twenty-eight innings—four times not outgives him an average of 85.58. C. B. Fry last week added his name to the select few who have accomplished the feat of scoring a century in both innings of a first-class match by making 125 and 220 against Surrey. His average is 67.50, just below that of R. E. Foster, the Oxford University captain, who is to visit the United States in the fall. The latter has a record of 68.84 for twenty-one innings. Rhodes, the Yorkshire professional, leads the bowlers with an average of 12.72 for 155 wickets, while Haigh, his club mate, is virtually second with 14.02 for 103 wickets. The prominent position of Sussex has been in Fine Shape. There was considerable rejoicing at the trainchampion's injured right arm is slowly but surely getting into shape. For the first time in months Fitz was able to bring the member around to his neck and back and straighten it out hot towel treatment has brought good results. Yesterday Fitz steamed the arm for fully a half hour and when through said the arm felt fine. Electricity is another test which Bob ber. After he had finished boxing in the gymnasium the Cornishman stopped before an electric machine on the boardwalk and was treated for fully fifteen minutes. At times Bob winced, but when the treatment was over the arm was nearly as limber and strong as ever.

the arm was nearly as limber and strong as ever.

If condition counts for anything, Fitz ought to beat Gus Rublin quite easily at Madison Square Garden next Friday night. The big blacksmith is as fri-ky and lively as a kitten. His muscles are prominent and there is no superfluous flesh on his body. The auburnhaired pugilist went through an arduous course of training yesterday. He boxed with Bob Armstrong and Jeff Thorne and got up a good sweat. Fitz does most of his road work in the morning. He covers about fifteen miles every day and his wind is perfect. Despite this he is worrying and is not as confident as usual.

this he is worrying and is not as confident as usual.

Ruhlin is steadily at work and is in fine trim. He spent most of his time on the road yesterday, as his wind is not at its best. Jim Corbett showed Gus how to avoid Fitz's blow for the solar plexus by making the "Akron Glant' lead with the left and shift the same for a quard for the body, then bringing over the right for a cross on the jaw. Ruhlin has the punch down very fine.

The betting on the outcome is slow, but it is expected that speculation will be brisk before Tuesday. Ruhlin is now a slight favorite. This is probably because the sports are inclined to believe that Fitz's sore arm will certainly handicap him.

As the time draws near for the interstate rifle contests at Sea Girt, which take place Aug. 31 to Sept. 9, interest is increasing among the National Guardsmen. This is shown by the large number of entries in all the big matches this year. In the Hilton Trophy contest for the State championship, the States of New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Minnesota and Illinois and the District of Columbia have already expressed their intention of competing, the latter two states being new comers in the arena of nathe revolver team match, in which entries have already been made by Battery A. Light Artillery, Massachusetts; Squadron A. New York; Governor's Horse Guards, Atlanta, Ga; Zazez and Monmouth troops New Jersey; Second Regiment, District of Columbia; Fourth Regiment, New Jersey, and Troop A, Maryland, In the individual millitary championship of the United States match, more than twenty States will be represented, and in the Wimbledon oup match, at 1,000 yards, six more targets had to be built to accomodate the number of shooters who will line up.

A convention of rifemen will be held at the clubhouse of the New Jersey State Rifle Association on Sept. 5, to organize a National League of Riflemen.

Col. N. B Thurston, Inspector of Small Arms, Practice, who has charge of the selection and practice of a National Guard rifle team to represent New York in the Interstate and Hilton Trophy rifle contests at Sea Girt next month, has received the returns from the men competing for places on the team from the First, Second, Third and Fifth brigades at Creedmoor, and the Fourth brigades at Tonawanda. These contests were open to all the guardsmen in the State, and were of three days' duration, the conditions being that the fifteen men making the best aggregate score during that time in a stated number of shots fired should compose the team and reserve. The following are the names of the successful men in their order of standing:

Sergt George H. Doyle, Company H. Seventy-first Regiment; Sergt W. S. Lamb, Company E. Twelith: mere Bill Chester before the National Sporting Club in October.
